

Dr. Falk Eigemann – Curriculum vitae (short)

1980 Born in Viersen/Germany

2000 - 2001 Alternative civilian service: University hospital Heidelberg/Germany

2001 - 2007 Studies of Biology at the University of Rostock/Germany

2007 - 2008 Diploma thesis "Occurrence and distribution of the parasitic dinoflagellate Hematodinium sp. in decapod crustaceans" University of Copenhagen/Denmark and Sisimiut/Greenland

2008 MareNutrica GmbH at Niendorf/Germany and Copenhagen/Denmark: Oil production of microalgae

2008 - 2009 Teacher at the St. Petri Skole Copenhagen/Denmark

2009 - 2013 PhD student IGB Berlin: Allelopathic effects of submerged macrophytes on phytoplankton: In situ evidence, bacterial influence and new modes of action

2010 Guest scientist at the Helmholtz-Centre for Environmental Research Leipzig/Germany (9 months)

2013 - 2014 Post-Doc IGB Berlin LAWA project: Long-term analysis of benthic and pelagic components in lakes

2014 - 2018 Post-Doc IOW Warnemünde: Interactions between cyanobacteria and associated organisms

2018 - 2019 Post-Doc IOW Warnemünde: Interactions among marine microbes – IAMM (Human Frontier Science Program)

2019: Guest Scientist at the University of Haifa and IOLR Haifa, Israel (2 months)

Since 2020: Post-Doc TU Berlin: Modelling of microbial interactions